THIS YEAR'S CHARITY

Children's Bereavement Center of South Texas is so much more than a place where grieving children come to heal. It is a place of transformation.

Children's Bereavement Center of South Texas was founded as a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization dedicated to serving children affected by the loss of a loved one. Their story began with one free peer support group serving 19 families. Today they serve thousands of children, caregivers, and community members every year through ongoing support groups, individual and family counseling, and professional education and training programs. As the demand for their services has continued to grow, they have responded by adding, adapting, and enhancing their programs to fully meet the needs of children and families living with grief. In a culture that does not talk about grief and bereavement and in a world that might not understand, they do.

As the sole provider of grief support programs for children through young adulthood in South Texas, they wholeheartedly devote themselves to addressing the bereavement needs of children from every culture and social circumstance to help them heal and move forward. They believe that each person's journey through grief is unique and therefore deserving of a distinctive approach. Their goal is to help children and their caregivers understand the depth of their grief, stabilize and preserve family relationships, and develop healthy coping skills after the death of a loved one.
